

District Remote Learning Plan 2024-2025

Stephanie Weaver-Rogers, Lead Person and Chief Operation Officer
Jozian Molina, Chief Academic Officer
Nicole Kessler, Chief of Teaching and Learning

This plan would be implemented during a district closure lasting more than three consecutive school days due to a declared state of emergency, declared public health emergency, or a directive by the appropriate health agency or officer to institute a public health-related closure. As a requirement of P.L.2020, c.27, this law and the plan provides for the continuity of instruction in the event of a public-health related district closure, in addition to COVID.

Introduction

LEAP Academy's vision—"To prepare the future global citizens" has embedded in its normal structure, the integration of innovation as a main feature of its DNA. It is clear that this pandemic has totally disrupted an education system that many affirm that it has lost relevance. In his book, 21 Lessons for the 21st Century, scholar Yuval Noah Harari outlines how schools continue to focus on traditional academic skills and traditional learning modes that have not advanced at the same pace of knowledge. LEAP's approach to learning is one that embeds important 21st century skills such as critical thinking and adaptability, which will be more important for success in the future. Therefore, as the school copes with this public health crisis, we are focusing on taking bolder steps to make e-learning part of a 'new normal'.

Capitalizing on the use of technology for teaching and learning is one of the cornerstones of LEAP Academy from inception and therefore, the school capitalized on many of its strengths, like 1-1 technology access for all of its students, during remote instruction all students take their devices home and any student without internet connect is provided with a school issued hotspot. Teachers that have been trained on how to integrate technology in the lessons and school platforms that can support online learning such as Schoology. What began as a temporary rapid response in mid-March 2020 has evolved into a plan for any additional necessary remote learning approach through the end of the 2022-2023 school year. Further, it has awakened our collective awareness of the need for adopting and embedding into our school's systems stronger technology and virtual learning elements that can sustain the school through uncharted territory as we re-open our schools in fall 2022.

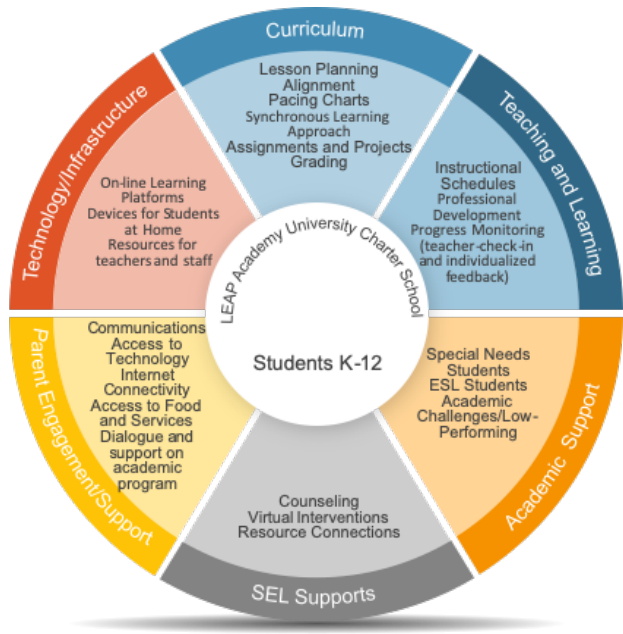

This Remote Learning Plan responds to this transition from a temporary endeavor to a more permanent modality of instruction as the state may have extended school closures and has laid out guidelines and expectations for our schools at LEAP Academy. The Plan also lays out the foundational elements that will guide our preparedness for any need for remote learning for the 2024-2025 school year as we all take a concentrated review of our systems, instructional approaches, work with special needs and ESL students, work to engage families, our technology investments, our systems for Social Emotional Learning and our approach for supporting teachers.

Guiding Principles and Alignment with School Mission

The Remote Learning Plan that has been developed aligns with LEAP's foundational elements, as it builds on the school's mission, guiding principles and unifying themes. This is an essential element, as our charter guides all the school’s decision making, innovative enhancements and missionary philosophy. LEAP’s mission is to “enhance opportunities for the children and families of Camden through the collaborative design, implementation, and integration of education, health, and human services programs and through community development.” That mission is sustained by a commitment to providing “Camden City students with the knowledge and skills to pursue post-secondary education, while building and sustaining an environment where all members of the educational community are committed to continuous growth and development toward high academic standards and are partners in building a positive, collaborative and nurturing community and dynamic learning environment.” This Remote Learning Plan sustains this mission and enhances its applicability to virtual instruction as the school’s plans and implements its remote learning plan of action. LEAP’s model builds on a commitment of ensuring the college preparation and completion for African American and Latino students who are mostly economically disadvantaged and first-generation college students. This academic focus has been sustained through four design elements: (1) LEAP has used the charter school approach as a platform for transforming educational options for parents and children in Camden City by improving education outcomes and establishing an organization that is entrepreneurial, efficient and highly accountable; (2) LEAP has adopted a rigorous curriculum that focuses on the STEM/STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts and Technology) content areas that is taught using multi-disciplinary collaborations and is supported by opportunities for students to engage in active, integrated and self-directed learning across grade levels; (3) LEAP has embraced the importance of placing college and career readiness at the center of its organizational structure—one that encompasses high expectations for students, educators, and families; and (4) The LEAP model begins at infancy to ensure that children are part of a comprehensive educational pipeline that supports them into productive adulthood. Based on LEAP’s foundational elements, mission and organizational structures, the Remote Learning Plan is comprehensive and addresses various areas that combine to support teaching and learning and generate good academic outcomes for the students from K-12.

The elements that anchor this plan are:

At LEAP Academy University Charter School, we have taken an innovative approach to remote learning by blending synchronous and asynchronous instruction throughout the school day, catering to the developmental needs of all learners by integrating interactive technology and robust platforms that track student engagement and provide immediate feedback to families and teachers. Our teachers communicate to families directly through Schoology and Remind, starting the day with a morning message, a short reminder of the work of the day, and posting any community events of interest. Families can access these apps on any mobile device for easy and instantaneous access to their child's teacher, daily. All parent communication is conducted in parents' native language. Parent Unit assists with translating any document that is shared by the district. Teachers use Remind app to ensure parent communication is flawless and messages are simultaneously translated between both parties.

LEAP teachers across the district use Schoology to house all lesson due dates, descriptions, and course calendars and in PowerSchool for daily grades for transparency and ease of access to families and students. Following the Sheltered Instruction Observation Model, during live lessons teachers use various forms of formative assessments to continue meeting the needs of ELLs and keep students engaged remotely, such as zoom polling, Nearpod for live quizzes, Microsoft One Drive, for live collaborative writing. YouTube and other educational media, informational video clips, Padlet for live bulletin board posts, and Edpuzzle or Schoology assessments for video viewing comprehension with embedded questions are provided for our diverse learners. Teachers can model writing and mathematics by using Zoom's interactive whiteboard.

After the live lessons are complete the recordings are saved to the Schoology platform. At the K-3 level, teachers encourage students to watch teacher read-alouds and engage in short formative assessments on Schoology. At the 4-8 levels, teachers use a variety of assessment tools to gauge comprehension, including Schoology assessment quizzes, Padlet brainstorming and writing, SAAVAS textbook and eBook platform for reading comprehension, assessment tracking and chunking, and the newline boards or nearpod for interactive PowerPoint assessments. LEAP teachers can collect student assessment data through both the live synchronous lessons and the asynchronous lessons by using various edtech tools that provide valuable feedback on engagement, comprehension and on whether the students are meeting the learning targets set forth in the curriculum.

Our high school program provides an opportunity for seniors to attend Rutgers and Rowan University.

At LEAP, we believe is providing a differentiated model of remote learning that meets the needs of all learners, by providing a low stress and highly interactive environment that tracks student learning and behavior in a synchronous and asynchronous environment. LEAP Academy is a leader in best practices in education technology. As evidenced by the emphasis we place on training our faculty in the collaborative integration of technology in all levels, the district provides training for teachers, administrators, and counselors to learn Sheltered Instruction strategies related to culturally responsive teaching and learning. Various workshops and learning opportunities are offered for faculty and administration for socio-emotional learning and trauma-informed teaching for students affected by forced migration from their home country.

Summary

- K-12 students use one Learning management system (LMS): Schoology to take assessments, interact with teachers, classmates, and access class materials
- Teachers create engaging live lessons daily on zoom, utilizing breakout rooms for differentiation, the whiteboard feature for targeted instruction, polling apps like Socrative for informal, formative assessment, and apps like Edpuzzle for YouTube instructional video comprehension
- Teachers store instructional tutorials on Schoology platform for students and parents to access from home after the live lesson.
- Teachers are provided with various professional development opportunities
- All formal and informal assessments are embedded on Schoology, with integrated access to a gradebook, with 100% transparency for the students and their families.
- Students build reading, writing and mathematics skills on virtual platforms while teachers evaluate their progress by considering the data pulled from periodic benchmark assessments
- Students interact meaningfully with peers through the use of integrated technology.

Effective Instruction

- Rooms are arranged to allow maximum student interaction within COVID guidelines by allowing students the opportunity to speak to each other through Flipgrid, an online interactive tool, and have meaningful discussions on Schoology discussion boards.
- There are instructional tools used by both students and teachers that are displayed on the Schoology home page and projected on the Newline board to facilitate learning, such as digital word walls, digital concept maps, digital data walls through Tableau, virtual and interactive bulletin boards on Padlet.
- There are digital spaces for student-to-student collaboration, such as Schoology synchronous discussion boards, Flipgrid synchronous video prompts, Padlet synchronous bulletin boards.
- There are opportunities for small group instruction on Imagine Learning through zoom breakout rooms and access to digital classroom libraries through SAAVAS eBooks in ELA and Social Studies, or digital textbooks at the high school level.
- Classrooms are culturally responsive and reflective of our multicultural population with books written by African American, Latinx and LGBTQ authors digitally displayed on Schoology and SAAVAS ELA and Social Studies platforms.
- Differentiated instruction strategies such as student choice in reading selection, project based learning, and reflective writing are planned and delivered effectively to meet the needs of our diverse learners.
- Project Based Learning is integrated into lessons, adapting 21st Century skills by focusing on STEM and STEAM integration across content areas through STEMscopes digital curriculum.

- Based on ELLs' individual student needs, as far as practice with target vocabulary, sight word vocabulary, etc. ESL teachers support ELLs in reading, writing, speaking and listening experiences.

- To support content area instruction for ELLs, our students have access to online instructional programs such as Rosetta Stone, Imagine Learning (Reading) Imagine Math (Math) to ensure ELLs continue to have access to academic content, building of background, and practice new material.
- LEAP Remote instruction pedagogy uses multiple methods in short bites: OneDrive, padlet, polling, Schoology discussion boards, Flipgrid, etc. to engage learning and assess in multiple modalities
- Students are given a space where they can express their thoughts and feelings, have a sense of belonging, and the freedom to express their opinions in a safe environment.
- Teachers collect student assessment and feedback in multiple ways throughout the day.
- Teachers are sensitive to the developmental needs and learning capacity of students by age as it relates to ability to sustain synchronous online learning.
- Teachers and staff receive professional development in culturally responsive teaching, trauma informed teaching and social –emotional learning in the monthly in-house professional development trainings as well as outside professional development for administrators and our social workers.

Student Engagement

- A “Do Now” or “Bell ringer” is available immediately upon entering class for all students to complete, either on the smartboard or on the Schoology home page.
- Teachers will present the lesson content with visual images, text, and movement, as part of an anticipatory set, followed by guided practice with the teacher, and then independent practice on zoom breakout rooms for differentiation.
- Formative Assessment is implemented throughout the period to gauge student understanding through polling on various apps, such as poll everywhere, Socrative or zoom polling. Summative assessment is implemented in the form of common assessments every 10 weeks (about 2 and a half months) to measure growth over time.
- Responsive classroom techniques are integrated throughout the lesson, such as “morning meeting” where students “meet” on zoom and share emotions, new events, and good news, state the date, and review past information before going into the day’s agenda, “closing circle” where students summarize their class on zoom and then submit an “exit ticket” on Schoology or Microsoft Forms to show what they have learned before leaving class for the day.
- Transitions between activities are seamless as students move from one activity to the next without disruption.
- Students complete an age and level appropriate amount of the cognitive work during the lesson, such as reading, writing, discussion, analysis, computation, or problem solving, given the focus of the lesson.
- Teacher facilitates metacognitive problem solving by allowing students to think on their own.
- Students provide meaningful oral and/or written evidence to support their conclusion on One Note or Schoology assignments that are submitted electronically.
- Students respond to and build on their peers’ opinions, ideas, or answers on OneDrive on Schoology discussion boards.
- Students routinely provide constructive feedback to their classmates and respond logically with detail when a peer answers a question incorrectly, or when they disagree with the response by using Schoology discussion boards or Flipgrid.
- Almost all students consistently try in earnest to complete academic work and answer questions, even if the work is challenging as evidenced by posts on Schoology and/or Flipgrid.

- The Responsive Classroom approach is implemented in all K-8 classrooms to promote 100% student engagement and a safe classroom community.
- Student Learning Objectives are posted on Schoology folders in student friendly terms, reviewed with the students and revisited by the teacher to ensure enduring understanding.
- ESL Teachers utilize ELLs' Individualized Learning Plans to ensure continued progress. They provide opportunities, support, and resources for students to hear, use, and read English as much as possible. The above applies to ELL teachers' co-teaching responsibilities as well.

Assessment

At LEAP Academy University Charter School, we have taken an innovative approach to remote learning by creating a collaborative synchronous instruction model that is sustained throughout the school day, catering to the developmental needs of all learners by integrating interactive technology and robust platforms that track student engagement and provide immediate feedback to families and teachers. Our teachers use a combination of formative and summative standards-based assessment in our online platforms to document student learning and collect valuable data to improve instructional practices.

LEAP teachers across the district use Schoology to house all lesson due dates, descriptions, course calendars and daily grades for transparency and ease of access to families and students. To make lessons interactive, our educators create daily live lessons on Zoom and invite students and their families to participate. During live lessons teachers use various forms of formative assessment to keep students engaged remotely, such as Socrative or poll everywhere for instantaneous live polling, One Drive for live collaborative writing, YouTube for short informational video clips, Padlet for live bulletin board posts, and Schoology pages for video viewing comprehension with embedded questions. Teachers model writing and mathematics by using Zoom's interactive whiteboard and differentiate instruction by inviting students to participate in zoom rooms. All these technology tools allow the educators to assess the children across subject areas in reading, writing, listening, and speaking skills. Formative assessments are an essential component in taking the pulse of the classroom, and checking for understanding in an asynchronous environment. All assessments are tied to unit level standards in each subject area.

After the live lessons are complete, the lesson recordings are saved automatically onto Schoology. At the K-3 level, teachers encourage students to watch teacher read-alouds. Students listen to the stories, complete a storyboard picture summary, retell the story on audio, or finish the story with a different ending. Teachers assign the padlet as a listening comprehension exercise, and collect the student assessments to check for comprehension. Teachers also post interactive literacy and math lessons with formative assessments options from a variety of digital curriculum platforms, such as Imagine Learning, STEMscopes, Learning A-Z, Rosen LevelUp, Imagine Learning, and SAAVAS.

At the 4-12 levels, teachers upload their video lessons to Schoology, and use a variety of assessment tools to gauge comprehension, including Microsoft Forms, Schoology video comprehension quizzes, Padlet brainstorming and writing, actively learn eBook platform for reading comprehension, assessment tracking and chunking, and Nearpod for interactive PowerPoint assessments. LEAP teachers are able to collect student assessment data through the live synchronous lessons by using various edtech tools that provide valuable feedback on engagement, comprehension and on whether the students are meeting the learning targets set forth in the curriculum.

At LEAP, we believe is providing a differentiated model of remote learning that meets the needs of all learners, by providing a low stress and highly interactive environment that tracks student learning and behavior in a synchronous and asynchronous environment. Teachers can assign summative assessments remotely through Schoology, canvas or class dojo by assigning a longer, more detailed project-based assessment or reflection piece asynchronously. Students had time at home to work on the assignment before handing it in electronically, and then an opportunity to revise after receiving teacher feedback.

Essential Employees

All LEAP Academy employees are essential workers. All employees are required to report to the district in an event that district returns to remote instruction. The reason behind all employees reporting to the district is that we have to have continuity in our educational programs, supports in place for our students and families and the buildings must be maintained.

School Breakfast and Lunch Program

At LEAP Academy Charter Schools we provide free breakfast and lunch to all students daily. During remote instruction, we will provide a meal pick up option from the High School cafeteria for all families daily and for parents that do not have transportation we will deliver meals to the home, as we did during the 2020-2021 school year. Students who are subject to quarantine/isolation restrictions will have access to a school-provided meal and arrangements will be made through the Food Service Department / District Office.

Digital Divide Resources:

- LEAP Academy is a 1:1 district, we were a 1:1 district prior to the pandemic
- All students and staff were assigned a device to use in district.
- During virtual instruction every student takes their assigned district device home
- The technology department's "help desk" hours for all students and their families to pick-up, return, repair, and assist with technology issues are from 8 am – 4 pm.
- The parent engagement department has worked with families to assist with affordable internet access plans
- The technology department will continue to provide hotspots for families that have no internet connection.

Cleaning and Disinfecting

School personnel and vendors charged with cleaning schools and buses will be required to utilize approved materials and processes designated by the DOH and the Director of Facilities.

A daily schedule of cleaning, cleaning checklists, product list, and related documentation will be maintained by the Director of Facilities and within each building. All classrooms, school buses, cafeterias, gymnasiums, etc., will be cleaned daily, and where necessary, enhanced cleaning protocols will be utilized throughout the day.

During an extended closure, facilities staff will continue to maintain the buildings (both interior and exterior). Even during an extended closure, the facilities will still be in operation to ensure families are being fed and to ensure technology needs are being addressed via the help desk. The facilities will also be open if extra-curricular activities are permitted per the NJDOE and/or the circumstances.

Transportation

- The Transportation Department will encourage open windows on buses to promote air circulation.
- The District will operate its full fleet of vehicles for transportation to and from school as well as extra-curricular activities.
- Where possible family members will be assigned to the same bus seats for cohorting purposes.

SEL and Mental Health Needs

- The District's Social Emotional Learning academic curriculum is Harmony (www.harmonysel.org.)
- LEAP Academy also utilizes Responsive classroom (k-8) and Leader In Me (9-12)
- The District has hired additional Social Workers, Applied Behavior Analyst (ABA) and an additional part-time psychologist to address the increase in SEL and Mental health needs.
- School counselors will work with building staff to identify students in need of support. These students will be supported by District staff or referred for outside services. While on virtual instruction the social workers and ABA will conduct individual and group counseling over zoom as we did during the previous years.
- The District has been working with Rowan University Tele-counseling program, Center for Family Services and other local community programs to provide services to our students and families.

Social and Emotional Health of Staff

In addition to the SEL offering for students, LEAP Academy offers:

- SEL training for staff during the monthly professional development institute
- Mental health seminars through our LEAP Health and Wellness Center
- All employees who participate in the health plan also have access to the Aetna EAP, which provides additional resources for stress, mental health and crisis.

LEAP Special Education/ESL

LEAP Academy remains committed to providing meaningful access for all students including our students with special needs. This includes providing a free and appropriate public education while recognizing the need to protect the health and safety of students with special needs and those individuals' providing education, specialized instruction, and related services to these students. It is the intention of the district to offer accommodations to students eligible for special education or those with 504 plans and related services, to the fullest extent possible. As appropriate, special education staff will provide instruction in areas identified within the student's IEP. Related Services such as Speech and Language Therapy, Occupational Therapy, and Physical Therapy will be provided remotely through virtual platforms in addition to consultation. Case managers will contact families weekly to ensure that concerns are being addressed and services are being provided. They will work directly with families to schedule, coordinate and conduct IEP meetings.
